

The Action is in the Interaction

A Workshop for Those Working in Education & Early Childhood

This day is especially designed for those working in education and/or early childhood group settings who are supporting children with behaviours that place them on the autistic spectrum, and / or whom have challenges in communicating, relating, & attending.

Facilitated by: Kathy Walmsley, Occupational Therapist, Perth
Mari Caulfield, Speech and Language Therapist, Galway, Ireland.

The workshop will explore practical ways to support children during daily curriculum & school life. This will include:

- Supporting children to calm & share attention with others
- Building Communication
- Expressing Ideas and Feelings
- Encouraging thinking and problem solving
- Supporting peer interactions & play
- Dealing with daily challenges

Included will be video clips of caregivers and children using developmentally based approaches with their children.

Please note: Workshop materials will complement information covered in the two & three day introductory DIR®/Floortime™ training (see website for info)
